30,000 people a year suffer from Cardiac Arrest outside of hospital. Only 1 in 10 survive. Sudden Cardiac Arrest can happen to anyone, at any age irrespective of good health. Time is extremely critical should anyone fall victim. A defibrillation shock delivered within 2 minutes will give the victim an 80% chance of surviving. The chances of survival drops by 10% with every passing minute if the victim doesn't receive treatment by defibrillation.

Come along and learn how to use these life-saving devices. Free 2 hour training. No experience necessary. All welcome to attend.
